

Pediatr Neurol. 2006 Jan;34(1):76-8.

Monozygotic twins discordant for Klippel-Feil syndrome.

Toyoshima M, Maegaki Y, Yuasa I, Ohno K.

Source

Department of Pediatrics, Tottori Prefectural Central Hospital, Yonago, Japan.
toyoshima-m@pref.tottori.jp

Abstract

In a pair of Japanese monozygotic twins, one manifested Klippel-Feil syndrome, a short neck with C(1-4) vertebra fusion, whereas the other was normal. The discordance between the twins suggests that Klippel-Feil syndrome results in part from a postzygotic somatic mutation or intrauterine environmental factors.

PMID:

16376286

[PubMed - indexed for MEDLINE]